

The problem is NOT satellite radio. The problem is the dumbing-down and standardization of broadcast radio. As one who drives cross-country frequently, I have for some time been appalled (and bored!) by the mindless sameness of broadcast radio throughout America. Satellite radio, in contrast, offers a startling, bracing, wonderful richness of highly varied content. Re the traffic and weather services on satellite: For the traveler, they can be very helpful. If I'm flying to L.A., it's nice while driving to the airport in Houston to be able to what I'm flying into.

Please do not interfere with these services.

Sincerely,
Douglas Milburn
2308 Triway Lane
Houston, TX 77043